Entrance Counseling for Student Borrowers

If a student chooses to take out a Federal Direct Loan, managing the debt that is incurred is a major responsibility. To insure the student understands the responsibility that accompanies the obligation they will be assuming, the Federal Government requires participation in loan counseling called “Entrance Counseling”.

Entrance Counseling is conducted via an online session at www.studentloans.gov. You must have a FAFSA PIN to complete the process. Entrance counseling must be completed before the loan can be disbursed.
